Dear CC Montessori Families,

Happy New Year and beyond! We are excited to have everyone back and hopefully we will all be illness free soon. On that note we've had lots of absences due to illness and other things. To date we've lost $60,000. from the state to absences. Of course, keep your children home when they are sick with fever or contagious; however, we need your students on campus when they are well and just feeling lazy.

Mr. Tevin is Spring planting the next few weeks with our community and would love some starter veggie plants and blooming plants for students to plant. They are always excited when our vegetable plants begin producing.

We are thankful for our parent readers. The lower elementary loves reading to adults. Our students make such growth when being read to and reading to others. It is wonderful to see.

We need someone to make a run to the dump for us. Next week the students will work in our nearby community and also on the garden. Once that happens, we have lots of gardening debris that need to be hauled off. Please reach out if this something you can help with.

Please take some time to read Family Connections from the American Montessori Society which is included.

Have a wonderful weekend.

Ms. Cerise

Graceful Parenting – by Eve M. Dreyfus M.D. Be Affectionate

*Tell and show your child how much you love him or her.
Touch and hold your child a lot. Physical touch and affection are very important for a child's development. If you show your child a great deal of affection, he or she will become secure knowing how you feel and will treat others affectionately.*
